A TALK THAT A GREENBACKER

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

A very intelligent and highly respectable citizen, who has always been a Republican, and would at once declare, called on me last week and in earnest manner to ask me how the Greenback question.

I asked him to excuse me lately and explained by his complaint to me the reasons for having hands with those who, as a Republican, had opposed those timely policies and if they were good and sufficient I would join the Greenback platform.

He said he would not longer.

First, "The great burden of the National debt rests on the people. It is crushing them very low."

In reply to his first complaint, I said: "Since which money has come from your pocket during the last twelve months into the National Treasury more than you paid in twelve months before the war?"

He hesitated and then replied that he had never figured it closely.

Well, said I, let us figure it. You consume sugar and molasses of course? "Yes," he replied, "tea coffee and rum, but there was always an import duty on these articles ever since we were a Government, and it is no higher now, in fact, not so high as before the war. Spirits tax and coffee have been reduced one half since the war. I don't see where."

Firstly, said I, "the only other article upon which the Government has raised the tax besides, tobacco, fancy chains, gilded and perfumed articles and carriages, and carriages, do you own any of these?" "No," he replied, "only carriages from twenty-five to fifty dollars a year," and the duty is only one dollar a dozen.

"Then," I replied, "the pay directly and indirectly, not exceeding fifty cents a year to the National Government. Do you think that a sufficient share of your profits for us tumultuous and principles for which we have contended these twenty years?"

"No," he said: "But are you sure that is all I pay to the Government, fifty cents?"

"Do you," I replied, "know of another penny which you contribute to the National Treasury that you did not before the war?"

He feebly said he did not. "Run," said he, "what is all this fuss and cry made by these Greenback speakers, about the burdens of taxation? It must be all humbug."

"Yes," I replied, "it is the cry of the demagogues. You will find that the anti-American Policy of the Republican Party has been to tax the luxuries, and not the necessities of life thereby relieving the rich and not the poor. A careful examination of the Internal Revenue laws passed since the beginning of the war will prove it.

"Our debts contracted to save the Nation must be paid, and the Policy of the Republican Party has been to tax those most who had the most at stake."

"Well," said my friend, "I guess you are right about the tax question, but explain: Second, that this National Bank system is a gigantic swindle of the people, sapping the very life of all business, and ought to be raised it."

"If you are correct in your statement," said I, "your cause union will follow." But are you sure you understand the National Banking system? Are you not deceived by the cry of the Greenback stump speakers? Let us examine."

First. Banks are places where the depositors and lenders of money meet. They exist in all civilized nations, and are indispensable to a thriving business community."

I then read the National Bank act with all its amendments and we agreed to the following facts, viz:

1st. That the National Bank act was not intended to save individual or number of persons but was open and free to all who could comply with the only conditions in it, to wit: deposit with the U. S. Treasurer as many hundred dollar U. S. Bonds as they issued ninety dollars in bills, so that no large amount of such paper can fall to be redeemed.

2d. That the rate of interest were not higher in the National Banks than they were in the old State banks before the war.

3d. That no one was obliged to give of the National Banks if they could live cheaper elsewhere.

4th. That the credit of the Government to issue and run a National Bank is merely nominal.

"Now," said I, "what people have not felt your burden of assessment the National banking system have they?"

"No," he said, "I do not think they have felt it, but they have opposed with the U. S. Treasury those who have."

"Well," said I, "you are right in your statement, but you

A Truly Startling Exhibit.

If any reader fails to find a truly Startling Exhibit, in the record of Greenback utterances, doctrines and actions which we present to-day, he must, be either willfully blinded to all truth, or unable to recognize the plainest evidence of serious public danger. In our Supplement to-day we cite from Brick Pomeroy, one of the authors, organizers and principal chiefs of the Greenback movement, the unblushing and defiant declaration of its revolutionary and treasonable objects. In other columns we present the utterances of Denis Kearney, the blasphemous wretch imported East from the Pacific Coast to inflame and exasperate the mob into rebellion against all law and order. Not less significant or disgraceful than these, we quote again the atrocious sentiment proclaimed in this city by the Greenback candidate for a seat in the American Congress. And with these scandalous utterances we record their natural and inevitable fruits a the outbreak of the mob spirit in this hitherto law-abiding County of Penobscot.

We ask every reasonable man to consider these positive, cumulative and alarming evidences of the purpose to inaugurate in this country nothing less than THE REIGN OF THE MOB! That is what lies in wait but without attempt at concealment, behind the so-called "Greenback movement!" No sane man can fail to see it. The violation of public honor, the repudiation of all obligations of integrity, the inciting of desperate strife between labor and capital; the inflaming of the poor with fierce hatred of the rich as enemies of the public, the rallying of all the debased and criminal elements of society into organized rebellion against all rights of property and all restraints of law; the threats that the mob has "bayonets in reserve" if it fails to capture the ballot-boxes. These manifestations in all parts of the land, and even here, in the midst of New England, point to but one end—the Reign of the Mob!

With the moral barriers once broken down, with the fierce tide of unrestraining violence once let loose, no arm will be strong enough to check it, no leadership to control or restrain it. The issue is upon us here and to-day! The man who cannot see it is worse than sightless. The alternative is the Rule of the Law or the Reign of the Mob! The banners are plainly unfurled! Under which flag? Let every thoughtful citizen answer!

KEARNEYISM IN MAINE!

MOB DOCTRINES BEARING FRUIT!

PENOBSCOT COUNTY DISGRACED!

A RIOTOUS MEETING IN EXPANT BROKEN BY GREEN-BACK ROWDIES—ATTEMPT TO BREAK UP THE MEETING—ROTTEN AND OTHER MISSILES SMASHED THROUGH THE WINDOWS—INDIGNATION OF ALL DECENT PEOPLE.

The persistent teaching of the doctrines of the mob bore fruit last evening in an outrage in Levant, which should cause every sober-minded citizen to consider whither this Kearneyism and Marcellus Emerylism is leading.

In pursuance of a regular appointment Thomas M. Nichol, Esq., of Chicago, the Secretary of the Honest Money League of the Northwest, who has been speaking in this state in behalf of sound principles of finance, was accompanied by Mrs E. W. Ware, of this city, to the town of Levant last evening, where a large audience including many ladies, had assembled in the Town Hall. O W Smith, Esq., was called to preside and introduced Mr. Nichol, who proceeded to open his argument. He was interrupted at the outset, however, by the loud disorder of a crowd of Greenbackers who had gathered in the vestibule around the doors, and who refused a polite invitation to come forward and take seats. The disturbance being so great that the speaker was unable to go on, the doors were ordered shut, but were immediately kicked open by the rowdies, who continued their catcalls and disturbance. The doors were finally closed and secured, when the Greenback crowd gathered near the open windows and resumed their yelling and shouting attempts to break up the meeting. Failing in this they had resort to violence and assailed the building with a shower of rocks and other missiles, some of which were hurled through the open windows at the speaker and others, smashing through the glass which was scattered over the the floor. Many of the ladies were much alarmed, and everybody was indignant at the unmanly outrage, the crowd outside keeping up their howling and yells. The chairman stationed himself at the window near the stage to protect the speaker from the missiles, and finally the Greenback gang "partially withdrew, so that the speaker could resume his discourse. As is well known, Mr. Nichol devotes himself entirely to a candid and unimpassioned discussion of the doctrines of national finance, and no speaker could afford less excuse for discourteous treatment. The rowdy crowd, however, did not wait for an excuse, as to hear what he was going to say, but manifested a pre-determination to break up the meeting by disorder and if necessary by force.

Mr. Nichol's address was listened to with attention and his calm and clear arguments warmly applauded by the ladies and gentlemen of Levant who had assembled to hear him. The utmost indignation was expressed by those present, that Levant should have been disgraced by such outrageous treatment of a visitor from another State, and the ladies were especially indignant at the ruffianly demonstration.

Levant has been boasted as one of the strongholds of Greenbackism, and the followers of Brick Pomeroy, Denis Kearney, Marcellus Emery and George W. Ladd in that town are out) showing their sentiments by attempting the crushing of those leaders into practice. It behooves every good citizen to reflect upon these early fruits of Greenbackism in Maine, and to ask where a "movement" will end, that begins in the mobbing of citizens peacefully assembled to listen to calm and candid arguments in behalf of public honesty and the maintenance of the national faith?

It is for the order-loving people of Levant and of Penobscot County to signally rebuke this manifestation of the mob spirit, by their efforts and their ballots at the polls.

"The Stale Cry of Capital Against Labor."

One of the earliest and most vociferous champions of the Greenback heresies in Maine is William H. Rust, of the Belfast Age. He first refused to hoist the name of March, the candidate for Congress who beat him at the Convention, stating in his paper that he could not and would not present the name of so unfit a nominee. A few days ago he presided at a meeting in Belfast to do honor to this same March. While using more decent language than Kearney, this same Mr. Rust has rivalled the California Demagogue in appealing to prejudice against all who have acquired any property and in stirring up strife between the poor and the rich, between labor and capital. The Kennebec Journal has been looking over his records, and finds that no longer ago than 1869, when Rust was a member of the House, he gave a very decided opinion of the mischievous demagogism in which he has recently engaged. During the session a bill was introduced to abolish restrictions in regard to interest and allow parties to agree upon the rate of interest. Mr. Rust spoke in favor of the bill. In his remarks he said

"The gentleman from Scarboro', Mr. Gunnison, had reiterated the old stale cry of 'Capital against labor,' the 'rich against the poor.' This cry was formerly potent in this State. It had begotten a agitation, and prejudice which had led to the adoption of a STATE POLICY which had kept MAINE IN THE BACKGROUND. In the name of the poor man he protested against the reviving cry of the rich oppressing the poor. Every poor man in the State who has any manhood, DETESTS IT. He wants none of your special favors because he is poor; none of your cossetting; none of your laws framed expressly to take care of him. All he wants is equal laws and equal rights. THIS CRY OF OPPRESSING THE POOR HAS BEEN SO LONG USED BY DEMAGOGUES, that the people had come to regard it with SUPREME CONTEMPT."

REVISING THE VOTING LISTS.

The work of revising the voting lists is now in progress and it is important that every Republican ascertain that his name is properly entered on the list of his ward, and also that any errors in other names known to him be corrected. Information of names omitted or improperly entered should be promptly given to the City Committee, in order that correction be made.

KEARNEYISM.

THE ORACLE OF THE MOB.

A Greenback Champion.

(From the N. Y. Times.)

About 3,000 persons gathered in Military Park, Newark, last evening, to hear the "rand-lots orator," Denis Kearney. He was introduced by Mr. Decsher, a local Greenbank politician, and began his speech in a violent outpouring of abuse upon the press generally, and that of Newark particularly. He denounced editors who did not approve of him as "infernal bony hypocrites" and "cowards" and "slimy things." "These are the kind of men," he said, "that ridicule Denis Kearney and the movement in which he is engaged—men who are not fit to tie my shoe-strings. I intend to follow all these slimy imps of hell, to expose the infamy of them, before I get through with them—the modern plundering aristocrats of America. The columns of the slimy sheets of this country are owned and controlled by the robbers of the nation, the plunderers of the nation, and you select any of those men for me and I'll point out before them between his two eyes the looks like a plunderer, an infernal vagabond, try to ruin the people of America. I'm going to-day what I please against the infernal thieving scoundrels that run newspapers. They've used my name in their blackguard falsehoods, but I've never let the man yet that can get one inch ahead of me." (Laughter.) This is a fight between honest men and thieves—a fight for labor. This is no movement for the benefit of the rich. This is no movement for the benefit of some gentlemen who were laughing on the other side of the house when he stood. I' im appealing to the honest working man, where you will find the bruise of the nation. I heard three workingmen the other day talking about the issues of the day, and I heard them talk more sense in five minutes than your whole Cabinet of the United States could talk in a month. In the event of the hours of labor being increased, you men could petition the City Government, telling all the aldermen in your wards to issue City scrip and start a factory of your own. [Immense applause. One mournful small voice afterward, "I've tried that."] You could do that, and then you would become of Nugent & Co., of all the men who had made their power to oppress the honest working men of this country? [A voice—"Go to hell, and fix 'em."] You would drive them to the wall, and force them to take their blankets on their backs and tramp through the country.

That speech may seem to the critical reader, somewhat mixed, but it's Kearney's mixture, and is a fair sample of all the rest of his oration, which continued during an hour and a half. Much of it was what he has before said in every place where he has made a speech in the East, and the choice portions he was easier and more connected. He managed to harangue not to let "the Rockefellers of the capitalists" make fleeces long among them by anything about restraining or religion. One police force he charged directly upon the heads of our Congressmen and State and the celebrated Lodge Force, that would have for improving the harbor, that would have [illegible] yellow, forsooth." He referred to the triumph of his party in San Francisco, and declared that they had 3,000 men secretly organized and armed with Sowlisher rifles and revolvers on the day of election to protect their rights at the ballot boxes. He said the working men were bound to win, even if they had to wade knee-deep in blood and perish in the fight. Then he was the never-failing ground about the "poor, small, pig-tailed, leprous Chinese," and other topics which persistently failed to with in his appreciation. On actually appeared for a little against the newspapers, and warned them with assurance to the working men that the aim of the rich capitalist was to get their sons into State Prisons, in order to obtain their labor by convict contracts, and to make their daughters victims to the lust of the lecherous individuals. He also incidentally urged as a proper basis for society that the moral right of the poor to take by force what they needed from the rich be recognized.

Some applauded, but many more laughed at his wild harangue, as his audience one he concluded, had dwindled down to half the number who heard his introductory yell and witnessed his ostentatious removal of his coat, waistcoat and neckties, and the inhaler rolling up of his sleeves.

AN ATROCIOUS SENTIMENT.

(Correspondence of the Greenback convention.)

You see two men walking along the street; one is a rich banker and the other a ragged tramp. The rich man enters the room door of his fine dwelling; the tramp goes in at the back door, demands food or clothing, and if it is not given to him, He Steals It. And I tell you, That Tramp Is More Entitled To Honor than the rich man who sits in his luxurious parlor.

GREENBACK SLOGANS.

"Now, by the Gods, the work goes bravely on! THIS IS A MOVEMENT OF THE PEOPLE."—Marcellus Emery in Commercial, Sept. 4.

"I tell you it's working men in California here to open his head to interfere with the speakers and interrupt them. HE WOULD BE CHOKED TO DEATH IN FIVE MINUTES. But THIS IS AN UPRISING OF THE PEOPLE."—Denis Kearney, at Newark, Sept. 2.

"The whole line of the enemy is in full retreat! Sound the advance! Press THEM WITH THE SCHONEY! Make the defeat a complete rout! Greenbacks have Reform the battle cry.—Marcellus Emery, in Commercial, Sept. 4.

"In California we pooled our issues and deserted the block-suckers. WE HAD AN ORGANIZED ARMY IN RESERVE, ARMED WITH BOWIE-KNIVES AND PISTOLS to protect the ballot-box. We are bound to go, possession of this Government peaceably if we can, but if any attempt be made to cheat us out of the election, WE WILL WADE KNEE-DEEP IN BLOOD TO GET POSSESSION."—Denis Kearney, at Newark, Sept. 2.

THE MAINE CAMPAIGN FOR HONEST MONEY.

(From the New York Times.)

The Republicans of Maine are waging their battle manly against the Greenbackers, and right forcibly it is being done, too. The BANGOR WHIG prints a four page supplement, full of extracts from Greenback speeches and organs, going to show that treason and revolution are threatened by the repudiationists, and appealing to the Republicans to "rally once again redeem their lost pledges, and lead the country back to the money of the Constitution, from which treason compelled it temporary departure."

Republican Greenbackers will please note the contemptuous manner in which Marcellus Emery applies his lash of abuse to any citizen who refuses to march under his black flag. Because Wm. J. Butterfield, Esq., the Town Clerk, and one of the most respected citizens of Milford, has discovered the danger of Emery's doctrines, Marcellus likens him to the scum and drift-wood, the "slabs" and "old sunken logs," thrown on the shore by the great tide of Greenbackism. The now "Boss" airs it right royally over his recruits!

After a great deal of haggling and changing the "slate" was prepared last evening by the Democratic, Greenback and Zebra political factors, and the "no-party" Classes to-day will be polled to make the less nominate the ticket of "Boynton, Brown and Jordan," put up in advance by a select coterie which is not a "ring"—of course not. Perish the thought! This is a movement of the people." If you don't believe it, ask Marcellus Emery.

MAINE NEWS.

SENATOR BLAINE.

TO MINNESOTA AND RETURN.

A CONTINUED OVATION.

[Special to Boston Journal.]

Speech to Immense Crowd at Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 4. Mr. Blaine addressed an immense crowd at the grounds of the exposition of the Agricultural and Mechanical Society yesterday, and left to meet his engagement in Maine. He was greeted by thousands of people—A continued ovation all along the route.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 4. Senator Blaine reached this city from Minnesota this afternoon and started East at 3.15. By the Northwestern Road and at nearly all the stations was greeted by very large and enthusiastic crowds. At Madison he made considerable of a speech to a large assemblage, and at Milton he addressed an audience of, almost thousands at the railway station, while President Hayes, who had come up from Chicago, was being received in another part of the town. At Harvard, Ill., he was introduced to a crowd of many thousands by Gen. Hurlburt and responded in a manner that pleased his auditors. The latter's journey from Chicago to Minneapolis and return on two great trunk lines, has been one continued ovation.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

Short Sessions Reported.

Dispatches from all points where yellow fever has appeared five heartrending details of the terrible condition of the stricken people and there seems to be no abatement of the dread malady which is becoming, seemingly, more fatal than ever before known.

At Holly springs, Miss., there are over sixty cases of fever and there were six deaths Wednesday. The stores are all closed and all who could travel have gone away.

There are one hundred cases at Canton, Miss., and there is great need of money and provisions.

Government rations will be distributed in New Orleans by the collector of the port.

At Memphis, Tenn., the air is heavy with the stench of dead bodies and hundreds who have sick families cannot leave as long enough to procure food. The mortality is increasing especially among the negroes. There is great need of food for the destitute. The Odd Fellows appeal to their brethren everywhere for aid. Many than one hundred of the order have died.

Twelve thousand are sick in New Orleans, and two thousand at Vicksburg. At the latter place it is impossible for physicians to respond to all the calls. Whenever one is heard at the street there is a rush for him by those who live the streets waiting for a doctor.

The deaths in New Orleans Wednesday included fifteen children under six years of age.

At Greenville, Miss., there were nineteen new cases and nineteen deaths Wednesday. Physicians and nurses are needed.

At Grenada, Miss., there is no abatement of the disease.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The Steamboat Horror!

TERRIBLE SCENE OF DEATH!

The Collision and Disaster ending in Loss of Life.

LONDON, Sept. 4. All that is known until the next morning supplemented is that the screw steamer struck the Princess Alice on the port side near her fore-gangway. The blow which caused had no parallel on the river. A very few persons climbed on the other vessel, but nearly all rushed to the fore part of the Princess Alice. As her bow submerged gradually under water those already were fearful and nothing could be done to save her. There were a dozen or more life boats and some boats swinging at the davits, but even if they could have been got at they would have been of little service. Within five minutes the Princess Alice heeled completely over and went down. Some could be heard screaming to the crew and the Duke of York, another steamer belonging to the same company, which was able to assist in rescuing a few survivors, went to the rescue, but the river for a hundred yards was full of drowning people.

Screaming in Anguish

and praying for help, and as it was growing dark but much could be done. It is believed that not more than 150 escaped out of 300 aboard. The Princess Alice was a long, low steamer, built for excursions down the Thames, on which the middle and poor classes of London were very fond. She had saloons on her forward and after decks, and her passenger-carrying capacity was unusually large. A large reporting of the passengers went on the supposition of misconduct, and must have been beforehand their impending doom. But those on the other boat do not worship until they heard the crash and found the passengers from forward jumping to the other boat.

The Accident Probably due to a Misunderstanding.

Beyond the fact that the tide was about one hour ebb, which would enable the Princess Alice to case and stop sooner than the more steamer, which would have kept horse on the tide, it is impossible to offer any of the circumstances immediately preceding the collision. Before the boats came in sight of each other from one to the other, to keep out of the way, but as usual the accident was probably due to misunderstanding or misinterpretation of the intention of the other. All rules of sailing were cast to the winds in the moment of peril each taking the wrong course to avoid the other's blunder. Another Theory of the Cause of the Disaster.

The cause of the Princess Alice disaster is believed to be that both vessels were running a sharp bend in the river caused by the projection of a point of land where the powder magazine of Woolwich arsenal is situated. At this point the Princess Alice had changed order to the right bank and was thus out of her proper course. Her lights were probably obscured by the shadow of the powder magazine and being much smaller and lower than Bywell Castle the latter was upon her before the danger was perceived.

NORUMBEGA LODGE K. OF P. Last evening Norumbega Lodge K of P held a meeting for the purpose of conferring an invitation from Westmoreland Lodge K. of P., of Moncton, to attend the dedication of their new hall on the twelfth of this month. The collation promises to be quite a grand and interesting occasion. The new hall is spoken of as being a very fine building, and as the St. John and Portland Lodges will be in attendance the ceremonies will be very imposing.

THE CARY CONCERT. The Press describes the grand concert given by Miss Annie Louise Cary, in City Hall, Portland, Monday evening, as one of the most brilliant entertainments ever given in the State. It says "City Hall was packed last night on the occasion of the concert given by Miss Annie Louise Cary. Not a seat was to spare and even standing room was difficult to find. Miss Cary ought to feel highly complimented at so great a house.—It was a tribute to her favorite as a singer, an evidence of the admiration with which her great merit is regarded of which any artist would have abundant reason to be proud." An encore note from two favorite operas (the 2d Act of Il Trovatore and the 2d Act of Martha) were given in costume and with full support and charmed the spectators and the gratification of seeing Maine's greatest singer in that branch of musical composition in which she has made her great reputation and won her most decided triumphs. But the Press says—"Miss Cary was her greatest triumph in Sullivan's 'The Lost Chord.' That she sang with wonderful expression and correctness. It was perhaps the finest thing with which she has ever favored a Portland audience. The rich melody of her voice in the lower register was especially not despicable." Of the other performers the Press makes especial mention of Miss Hattie Shaw, formerly of this city, of whom it says: "Miss Shaw's harp solo was eminently pleasing. It is a pity that this instrument, especially in the hands of so skilful an instrumentalist, should not be oftener heard. The ingenious, unaffected manner of Miss Shaw pleasantly added to the favorable impression that her playing produced."

PENOBSCOT BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

The Association met at Brookfield Tuesday, Sept. 3d, and was organized by choice of Rev. L. F. Gurney, of Corinth, as Moderator, and E. Trask, of Bangor, as clerk. An interesting letter from the church in Bradford, welcoming the Association was read, after which the introductory sermon was preached by Rev. L. H. Brown, of Levant, from the text: John 14 22, "Lord how is it that thou will manifest unto us and not unto the world?" The sermon was of great excellence. After prayer by Rev. L. E. Bill, of Caribou, the Association adjourned until half past two in the afternoon.

These letters indicated a good degree of prosperity, and interest in the spread of the Gospel of Christ. Among them was a letter from Rev. Wm. Spaulding and wife, interesting missionaries of the denomination in Shoolbred, which was very impressive in its influence upon all present.

The hand of fellowship was given by the chief Moderator to Revs. W. E. Morse, Bidwell, N. C. Long, ministers who have during the past year come into the Association.

At 7.30 a sermon was preached by Rev. F. J. Bicknell, of Bangor, Rev. A. A. Ford, of Bar Harbor, assisted in the devotional exercises. The text was Luke 2: 1—37. The sermon was a happy exposition of the exceedingly rich portion of Scripture. After prayer by Rev. E. K. Drew the meeting was adjourned.

WEDNESDAY.

A Prayer meeting was held at 8.30 A. M. lasting for a half hour. The service was led by Rev. S. Bowe, of Lincoln Centre, and was of marked interest, from the fact that a large number of young converts took part in the exercises.

The Moderator spoke of the sickness of Dr. Fuller, of Corinth, and called upon Rev. F. T. Hazlewood to lead the Association in prayer for him and his family.

The Committee on resolutions reported through Moses Giddings, of Bangor, in behalf of Foreign Missions. Mr. Giddings presented his report with an able plea in behalf of this great enterprise, referring to the fact that within twenty-two days over 5,000 converts were baptized among the Telegoos. Earnest remarks were made by Revs. L. H. Bill, Jr., David Stewart and brother J. C. White, D. Trask. The Committee reported on Domestic Missions through Rev. L. H. Bill, Jr. He was followed with a plea of great eloquence, presenting the interests of the denomination in Southern Aroostook. Remarks were made by Rev. J. A. Van Kleek also.

It was voted to continue the discussion in the afternoon.

The Committee on resolutions reported on the subject of education through Rev. B. C. Long, who also spoke upon the subject. Remarks in addition were made by Revs. David Stewart, F. T. Hazlewood, W. THE CAMPAIGN.

Republican Meeting at Bradley

One of the leading citizens of Bradley under date of the 4th inst., writes as follows: I see by the morning paper of this date, that the Republican meeting held here last evening needs some correction. The meeting was called to order by S. W. Nagle, Chairman of the Town Committee, instead of J. A. Rich as reported, also the name of one of the speakers was omitted, viz: of Lumber Strickland Esq., of Bangor. The meeting was one of the best ever held in this place. The hall was well filled long before the hour appointed for the meeting to commence.

Mr Mattocks the 1st speaker of the evening spoke for about one half hour making a clear and candid argument for honest money. He was followed by Hon. Henry Lord, who presented the financial question in a clear and convincing manner. The next speaker, Lysander Strickland Esq., was listened to with the closest attention for a short one hour. Mr. Strickland is a gentleman that is held in the highest esteem by every citizen in the town of Bradley irrespective of party politics. This is our second meeting and never did a meeting pass off with more enthusiasm or give any better satisfaction to all who listened.

Nominations.

At the Republican caucus at Oldtown, Monday evening, James Weymouth, Esq., was nominated by acclamation for Representative to the Legislature.

Meeting at Gouldsboro.

Mr. Editor: Hon. D. F. Dyer's address to a large and and appreciative audience at the Town Hall here last night, on the financial question of the day. Mr. Davis dealt some very staggering blows to the Greenback heresy, which of late has taken hold of some of our citizens, and he handled his subject in that clear and logical manner, which could not fail to convince his hearers. The address throughout was listened to with marked attention which proved the earnestness of the people, and their frequent bursts of applause evinced their appreciation of the solid truths that were too plain to be misunderstood. The meeting closed with three rousing cheers for "honest money" and three more for our old-fashioned Aroostook vote. S.

THE VETERAN BATTALION.

First Day of Muster at Dover.

BEAUTIFUL WEATHER! FINE R.R.

Hastings and Barker Guards.

[Correspondence of Bangor Whig and Courier.]

DOVER, Sept. 4, 1872.

At half past nine o'clock this morning the firemen of this city and the members of Post No. 2, G. A. R., paid to their respective halls and a little past 9 o'clock, headed by the Bangor Cornet Band and the Bangor Drum Corps, marched to the Bangor House, where they received Hon. A. G. Hamlin, Department Commander of the Department of Maine, G. A. R., and staff, and the Russian officers from the steamer Chariots who are visiting our city, and who, on invitation of Commander Hamlin visited the muster with the steamer. They proceeded then to the M. C. R. R. depot at the foot of Union st. Leaving the depot at 9.30 o'clock the train proceeded to Glenburn, where they were joined by the Bangor Light Infantry, and other pleasant ride over the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad, arrived in the Dover ground, at a point between Dark Dover and Dover, at half past 10a. m. On arriving a pleasant sight met the eye. On a beautiful field, surrounded on four sides by the river which at that point makes a sudden bend, there were to be seen a large number of tents, clean and new, and neatly set out in streets and avenues, while before 11 o'clock, on a broad even field, the Veteran Battalion, which arrived yesterday, were engaged in company drill and presented a fine appearance, while on the half of the field nearest the railroad, and which rises in a gentle ascending slope from the parade ground, there were standing a large crowd of interested spectators numbering thousands, while the sides of the roads for a long distance in either direction as far as the eye could reach were lined with the teams of those who had come from a distance. Beside the track a large and excellent platform had been constructed, and on this the Hop was performed in the following order:

Ranger Drum Corps, Albert A. Adams, leader.

Jamesson Guards, Capt. James M. Davis with the following staff:

Gen. Daniel Wilde, Chief of Staff.
Gen. Joseph E. Smith, Commissary.
Major A. M. Benson, Quartermaster.
Capt. Frank M. Rowe, Surgeon.
Aide—Capt. F. G. Flagg, Capt. James Dean, Capt. Charles Lowell, Lieut. J. H. Hobb.

Bangor Cornet Band, M. H. Andrews, Leader.

H. E. Beals Post No. 13, G. A. R., E. C. Hayworth, Sen. Vice Commander, Commanding.

Department Commander, A. G. Hamlin and the following staff:

Col. E. M. Shaw, Adjutant General.
Col. F. S. Bangs, Inspector General.
Col. John F. Foster, Quartermaster General.

Invited guests, including the following officers of the Russian Navy in attendance:

Messrs. Bloomen, Glasenapp, Kolchinoff, Petersen, Nasenoff, Gorbatoff, Pomeroff, Shestakoff, Shepkin and Tyrnetzer, and Gen. Mongenstern's Aid-de-Camp, of Chicago, Ill.

Bangor Light Infantry, of Glenburn, Capt. E. W. Hinckley.

After the line was formed they were first met under escort by Company A, of Dover, Capt. V. A. Gray, headed by Dyer's Cornet Band, 8 Dover, F. E. Dyer, leader, were escorted to the camp headquarters, where they were received by the Colonel commanding, 1 staff as follows:

Levi C. Fiske, Monson, Colonel; S. D. Marlatt, Mills, Lieut. Colonel; J. E. Peaks, Dover, Major; Thos. F. Elliott, Dover, Adjutant; Lo and Hilda, Kingsbury, Quartermaster; E. A. Thompson, Dover, Surgeon; W. [illegible], Somerset, Paymaster; G. G. Dowaing, Dover, Commissary; J. W. Greene, Exposit, Bangor, Major; F. A. Holbrook, Dover, Chaplain; C. E. Kimball, Dover, Hospital Steward; M. McKenzie, Foxcroft, Drum Major.

The columns were then formed and assigned to their quarters, and the Commissary Department was rapidly put into working order, and as soon as possible the "soldier's appetites" which had been greatly improved by the early breakfast which they had been obliged to partake of.

While the preparations were in progress the occupied one time in looking over the ground and in observing the excellent company drilling of the various companies of the battalion, of four men each, consisting of the following:

Co. A, Dover Capt. W. A. Gray, Lieuts. W. G. Stowe, E. B. Douglass.
Co. B, Monson, Capt. J. F. House, Lieuts. L. W. Gammon, Wm. H. Davis.
Co. C, Foxcroft, Capt. W. W. Miller, Lieuts. A. L. O'Brien, A. E. Davis.
Co. D, Atkinson, Capt. O. W. Trask, Lieuts. A. M. Warren, E. O. Morrill.
Co. E, Greenville, Capt. H. L. Sawyer, Lieuts. C. E. Hall, [illegible].
Co. F, Abbott, Capt. E. S. Cole, Lieuts. J. M. Townsend, J. Bapper.
Co. G, Milo, (Capt. J. L. Sands, Lieut. W. H. Strickland), W. H. Owen.
Co. H, Dexter, Captain A. P. Fraser, Lieuts. O. W. Bird, J. D. Maxfield.
Co. I, Guilford, Capt. G. H. Stevens, Lieuts. F. H. Atkins, F. P. Mayor.
Co. K, Corinth, Capt. A. Briggs, Lieuts. E. L. Warren, [illegible].

The men presented a fine appearance and their uniforms, purchased at their own expense, do much credit to their military taste and liberality, but spoke highly in praise of the manner the members take in the organization.

After dinner had been partaken of—and of which we need say from gentlemen taken on the spot that it was sumptuous and abundant, and to which ample justice was done—a photographic group picture of portion of the Hotel Quarters, in front of which were seated the Russian and other officers, and the Bangor Band discoursed some of their favorite music, which was received with much applause.

At four o'clock in the afternoon the line again formed, and passed in review in front of Commander Hamlin and his distinguished guests and staff. This over the inspection was completed to a nicety, and a close and critical inspection of the soldiers of the battalion that "spoke" well for the drill officers, the neat, dapper, determined appearance of the men, and the faithful attention paid to their appointments, and the soldierly bearing on the part of the whole command was proper to see.

A fine display in point of good time of a most delightful day, and many heartfelt wishes, as all the hearts of all, military, guests and natural hosts alike there, were full of the best of good feeling, and the whole affair was a military way, unsurpassed in the State, and impressed even the ordinary beholder with an idea of its "go by." While those who have not only witnessed but have taken part in real warfare, felt the blood again coursing through their veins as of old. First the dashing firing of the pickets, then the falling back in the main force, which in turn were driven from their position, but the reserves coming up the position was regained, and the enemy driven over the hill. It was a grand sight and the rattling of musketry, the charging of bayonets, and the cheers and yells of the combatants, was worth going a much longer distance to see and hear, and was a vast improvement on their every soldiering and many manoeuvring usually seen at our militia musters.

To-morrow their will be a grand review by Gov. Connor and Staff.

The great declaration of a poet Vinegar—"No true fruit shows—it is found in Prussing's Apple Vinegar.

AN UNPARALLELED TRUTH. You deserve to be cured, if you lead a miserable, unhappy life in this beautiful world, if you routinely "pass away each year with a cough" and permit your unreasonable prejudice and stupidness, which has killed thousands. Personal knowledge and common-sense reasoning will soon show you that Green's August Flower will cure you of Liver Complaint, or Dyspepsia, with all its miserable effects, such as sick headache, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, habitual costiveness, low spirits, blues, nervous prostration, low spirits, and the entire train of symptoms which are sure to run towards Lawrence & Co.'s organs."
